

Riondel Community Campground Society

Member Code of Conduct

Riondel Community Campground Society (the "Society") is a community-based and community-serving organization dedicated to the promotion and preservation of recreational activity for the Riondel community. Society Members and Associate Members agree to treat one another and interact in a considerate and respectful manner, and agree to acknowledge and uphold all Society policies and procedures. Display of the following prohibited actions will not be tolerated and may result in termination of Society membership:

- Abusive language or rudeness, which includes any harassment, threatening or bullying behavior towards any other volunteer member, fellow participant or contractor.
- Abuse of alcoholic beverages or possession of illegal drugs on the Society's property, or reporting to the Society while under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

I have read and I understand the Riondel Community Campground Society's Code of Conduct. I agree to abide by the rules described above and understand that I may be removed as a member if I violate any of these rules.
